Home Again - Main Street Road Not Accepted-Mural Decorations in the Great Steamship-A Quiet Wedding -Narrow Escape-Local Notes.

The many friends of Miss Eda Fal-ken are glad to see her home once more from Oakland, California, where she is engaged as a teacher of physi-cal culture in a large college for girls. This is the second time she has come on from the Pacific coast to spend her vacation in dear old Stratford. Rev. C. S. Bullock arrived in town a few days ago from a prolonged bus-iness trip to Cleveland and Buffalo.

Vienna, W. Va. — "I feel that I owe the last ten years of my life to Lydia His invention for discovering a fire, known as the Dillock thermostat, has table Compound. Eleven years ago I been installed upon two of the largest lake boats, the City of Buffalo and the City of Erie. These great passenger steamers have each 34 stations, which make a record in three different parts of the ship, calling the crew to any portion of the vessel in case a fire breaks out.

It will probably be a surprise to a good many of the residents and tax payers to learn that the new improvpayers to learn that the new improved Main St., from Hard's to the raliroad bridge has not as yet been accepted by the state road commission as a satisfactory piece of work. There are those, one of our selectmen included, who think the whole street or roadway, from curb to curb, should be macadamized. It was a mistake on the part of someone to leave a strip of mud, or dirt road, each side of the street next to the green sward.

There will be a meeting of the Veterans of the Civil War, and the Sons of Veterans, at the Town Clerk's office in the Town House for the election of officers, and the transaction of other routine business next Monday evening.

Mr. Arthur Coe, who has been spending the winter in town, left to-day for a summer in Richmond, Ver-day for a summer in Richmond, Vermont.

Mr. Bullock was in Newark, N. J., on Wednesday. He is enthusiastic about the new great steamship, Robert Fulton, which is now making regular trips between New York and Albany. It will be recollected that the keel of this vessel was laid on the 11th of last January, and it was put into commission on the 24th of May, a feat never before accomplished. The mural decorations on this boat surpass anything of the kind ever seen before. They were executed by Samuel Ward Stanton, an artist almost unknown to fame, but a gentleman who has been quietly and persistently working at his profession for 30 years. When he sent in his designs for competition they were at once accepted. He represents nearly the whole history of they were at once accepted. He represents nearly the whole history of water navigation from the time of Hendrick Hudson, to the present day, in connection with Hudson river scenery, including Anthony's Nose, Newberg and West Point. When passengers first see these striking and beautiful paintings, they stand amazed at the conceptions of the artist.

It is hoped every one who is inter-the conceptions of the artist.

It is hoped every one who is interested in the preservation of our shade trees, and who wishes to promote the usefulness of the Village Improvement Society, will go to the library this evening to listen to the free lecture on the care of lawns and gardens, by Prof. Jenkinson of Vale.

There is a report that Lewis Spencer of this town was run down by an automobile while on his way from the Sport Hill climb, and that he escaped fatal injury by the "skin of his teeth," as the saying is. He was thrown from his bicycle and fell under the feet of a horse, but escaped with a few bruises. It is needless at this late day to comment upon the risks men and boys take who go to auto races.

The funeral of the late George J. Beach, aged 43, was held yesterday afternoon at Putney.

Next Thursday evening our local Red Men minstrels will repeat their entertainment at Red Men's hall. There promises to be a large attendance.

There was a very quiet and sensible wedding yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Briggs on Broad street, when Miss Marjory Beach Briggs was married to Mr. Beach Briggs was married to Mr. Howard Clayton Crane of Mendham, N. J. The ceremony was by Rev. Dr. Packhard, and the guests numbered hardly more than a dozen. The groom is connected with the New York Telephone company and the happy couple will reside in New Jersey.

It is understood that the case of the autoist who ran over and killed a boy on Stratford avenue, will come up before Judge Peck to-morrow.

The local grange has an invitation to visit the Monroe grange on the 11th inst.

On Wednesday Miss Cornelia F. Beers died at the home of her brother, Seth B. Beers, aged 52. She has resided in town but a few months. The funeral was held this morning and the remains were taken to Respectiville. Branchville

While in New York Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson took in the hippodrome and of course were delighted.

The lecture by Prof. Jenkinson takes place this evening at the library. At the same time Rev. Mr. Farrar will lecture at the Methodist church.

An Unruly Boy.

An Unruly Boy.

Benjamin Cash, who lives with his parents near Sharon, was arrested last week on the complaint of his father, who said he could do nothing with the boy and that the latter was making a nuisance of himself. Among other things young Cash insisted on breaking up glass and placing it in the road to puncture automobile tires. He refused to work and his parents decided to turn him over to the law. He was sentenced to fifteen days in jail. The sentence was suspended on good behavior.

A Singular Accident. Edward House, of Falls Village, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured a few days ago. He was driving his team of young horses to Canaan and in some way a quantity of wire became tangled in the fifth wheel. Mr. House went under the wagon to me became tangled in the fifth wheel. Mr. House went under the wagon to remove the wire. While he was doing so a couple of dogs scared the team and the latter ran away dragging Mr. House along the road under the wagon. After a time he succeeded in disengaging himself and dropped to the road. In doing so he was run over by a rear wheel and considerably bruised and shaken up. The team took the road back to the farm and were stopped in the yard there, no damage having been done.

but from a genuine liking for the reptiles. For a number of years past he has been in the habit of conducting a little snake hunt of his own every spring. Last year he estimates that he must have put an end to at least one hundred snakes. This spring, Mr. Scamerhorn's murderous tendencies were transformed into what has since developed into an exceptional partiality for the snake family, particularly the black snake. When the first farm days of spring arrived, he took his station near the den, and when their (to him) graceful forms began to crawl out into the sun, he lost no time in capturing them and removing them to the house where he has ing them to the house where he has since kept them captive. In this way Canaen's snake charmer captured twenty-five of the snakes and kept twenty-five of the snakes and kept them together in a single big box. When he wished to enjoy their company, the box would be removed to an open space and the entire mass of snakes would be transferred to positions on Mr. Scamerhorn's person. Some would entwine themselves about his arms, others would appreciate the warmth of his hands and would draw their cold bodies through his fingers; still others would secure the position of advantage about his neck.
